Volume I

We keep the tradition alive. $^{\text{\tiny TM}}$

Dear Customer:

Welcome to the premier issue of Ivy Numismatic Monthly. With this issue we have greatly expanded our inventory selections, many of which are featured in four-color reproductions.

In addition, we have revised our monthly catalog supplement to provide our readers with analysis and insight into the world of numismatics.

The first edition of Ivy Numismatic Monthly offers an exciting array of numismatic material, most of which was purchased at the 1980 American Numismatic Association Convention. Our selections also include quality material from several nice collections that we have purchased in recent months.

Highlights of our September selection include:

• A beautiful arrangement of Matte Proof Lincoln Cents exemplified by a beautifully toned Proof (69) piece and a very rare 1916 Proof (67).

• An elite class of Walking Liberty Halves headed by a well-struck 1921-S MS

(68) and a 1921-D MS (65).

• An extraordinary assembly of 15 Twenty Cent Pieces.

• A classic 1918/17-S Standing Liberty Quarter.

• An 1802 MS (67) One Dollar, one of the most magnificent examples of early U.S. silver coinage available.

Our intent in expanding the monthly supplement is to help collectors make better numismatic decisions. We encourage your questions and comments as we continue our efforts to provide you with the best service in numismatics.

Sincerely,

Steve Ivy

TRENDS

If the value of gem uncirculated Barber Dimes increased at the same rate in the next twenty years as it did during a three-month period last year, we could dissolve the national debt with two of those ten-cent pieces in the year 2000!

Implausible? Certainly!

However, the hypothetical example of MS (65) Barber Dimes is a good illustration of the unwritten law of the market: Rare coin prices cannot dramatically increase for an indefinite period; a break, or "breather" must eventually slow a torrid pace.

A prime illustration of market functions can be found in rare gold coins. In 1974, rare gold prices soared to incredible levels, peaked, then interest waned as record prices were paid for many pieces. Since then, considerable interest has again been directed towards rare gold and was reflected in prices realized for this material in Auction '80 and at the 1980 American Numismatic Association Auction.

The dramatic increase and subsequent leveling of rare coin prices is a normal and historic function of the market. Experienced numismatists expect this and know that their decisions are always supported by these facts:

• The market is behaving responsibly and predictably.

• Their collections are oriented to the long term.

• During the inevitable market "lulls," numismatists can add to or expand their collections by purchasing high grade coins at attractive prices.

In addition, the experienced numismatist know that one or two series normally move simultaneously. Currently, the strongest movers in the market are high grade copper, early bust coinage and gem silver dollars.

Market functions must be considered when prices rise as quickly and dramatically as type coins did during the past year and a half. Market-wise type coin enthusiasts are aware that high grade type coins currently are available at attractive prices and that these perennial favorites will probably always have a wide collector base.

In summation, the unwritten law of the market is a floating or changable interest in select rare coin areas, with pricing highs followed by a relocation of market interest to other series. Experienced collectors know this, and they gauge their decisions accordingly.

HALF EAGLES

1845 Proof (65) One of the most spectacular pieces of proof gold of any date or denomination that we have ever seen and we have examined virtually every piece of proof gold to come upon the numismatic market in the last several years. Of the hundreds of proof gold coins we have placed into fine collections and investment portfolios, not one kindled comparable pride of ownership or enthusiasm about future potential as this magnificent piece has.

Obviously handled with meticulous care over the decades, this regal numismatic masterpiece is delightfully void of impairments. Certainly one of the finest efforts of the Philadelphia mint, as the strike is full and the highly desirable cameo contrast between fields and devices could not be more intense. A wire rim encircles each side.

This coin's quality is apparent; its rarity is irrefutable. Akers states that only three or four are known. His exhaustive research of 337 auction catalogues which featured rare gold coins revealed but a single auction record for a proof 1845 Half Eagle, that being in 1948! Walter Breen knows of three, one of which is impounded perpetually in the Smithsonian, and anoher is a part of a complete proof set of 1845 owned by a New York collector. The third is the specimen listed by Akers, and is very likely this coin.

Our price is solidly supported by the value of later, more common proofs of this denomination, and by the extreme rarity of No Motto Half Eagles in uncirculated or proof condition. We proudly offer this prestigious coin for

THE FORUM

- Q: Why do prices for some coins differ from those listed in the Coin Dealer Newsletter, or Graysheet?
- A: The prices posted in the Graysheet are dealer bid prices and do not represent actual transactions. Prices shown in the publication are merely a very general indication of a coin's value. For instance, the Graysheet may list a dealer bid price of $2,000 for a certain coin. In reality, a dealer could offer to sell the coin for $3,000 or for $1,500. The actual sale price of the coin is determined by individual negotiations between the dealer and the buyer. Dealer bid prices published in the Graysheet must be appreciated for what they are general price guidelines and trend indicators.
- Q: Does toning on a coin diminish its value?
- A: Not necessarily. In fact, toning can add to a coin's value. Some collectors prefer toned coins and others prefer brilliant coins. A silver coin that has acquired attractive toning over the years may sell for a premium over a brilliant coin of the same date and type. Collectors usually prefer copper coins to have their full original mint-red color. A copper coin that has toned to a brown color usually is not as valuable as an untoned piece.
- Q: I have noticed that nearly all 1855 One Dollar Gold are softly struck on the date. Why is this so?
- A: Many of the Type Two One Dollar Gold are very softly struck at the date, most notably the 1855. Normally, the "8" is the most notorious digit for strike in all of the mints, Philadelphia, Charlotte, Dahlonega and New Orleans. Of the mints, the worst strike is normally found on the Charlotte specimens. The weak strikes in general are due to poor striking pressure and extremely poor quality planchets. A contributing factor to the planchet problem is the thinness of the planchets. The best strikes of the 1855 Gold Dollars were generally minted in New Orleans.

NUMISMIA

By Mark Feld

The year 1877, highlighted by the Philadelphia Centennial celebration and the inauguration of President Rutherford B. Hayes, was a popular one for pattern coinage.

According to Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, the recognized authority on pattern coinage, more patterns were struck in 1877 than in any other year. The Mint struck 49 pattern half dollars in silver and copper, more than any other series that year. In Judd's opinion, "...the rare pattern half dollars (of 1877) ...form one of the most beautiful and interesting series of all."

In his authoritative book, United States Pattern, Experimental and Trial Pieces, Judd assigned a rarity rating of R.7 to the pattern 1877 half dollar (J-1514) designed by George T. Morgan and shown on this page. A rating of R.7 indicates that approximately 4-12 of the coins were struck.

The patterns offer striking contrast to the 1877 Liberty Seated Half Dollar that was the regular issue of that year. The 1877 pattern half dollars featured nine different obverse designs. Many of them featured the head of Liberty that appears on Morgan Silver Dollars. The Mint experimented with a greater number of obverse designs, the major differences being in the design of the eagle and the placement and use of "In God We Trust" and "E Pluribus Unum."

In 1858 with Civil War tensions rising, the Mint, directed by J.R. Snowden, experimented with 19 varieties of the Flying Eagle Cent in an attempt to alleviate problems in striking cents of the larger flying eagle design. These coins eventually were sold by the Mint as part of a set of 12 different 1858 cents.

The pattern 1858 Flying Eagle Cents were struck in copper-nickel, copper, bronze and nickel. Different eagles appeared on the coin's obverses while different wreaths, with and without shields, appeared on the reverses. The regular issue Flying Eagle Cent of 1858 was struck in copper-nickel and in two major varieties — with large letters and with small letters.

The Flying Eagle Cent, first issued in 1856 was discontinued after 1858 when the Mint changed the design altogether to the Indian Head Cent.

The pattern 1858 Flying Eagle Cent (J-206) shown on this page has a rarity rating of R.5, meaning approximately 31-25 of the coins were struck.

The Mint struck most patterns in quantities of less than 1,000, and in many cases, the mintage figures were between 2 and 30 pieces.

Often times, patterns can be purchased at the same prices as the correspondent regular issues that are much more common. This month's issue contains a choice selection of some of our country's most beautiful coins — patterns.

AUCTION SCENE

by Bob Merrill

The record-breaking $7.6 million American Numismatic Association Auction conducted by Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions, Inc. underscores an overall strengthening of the market.

Generally, there were few surprises at the A.N.A. Auction. Silver dollars, early gold and copper were predictably strong, while prices for many U.S. type coins and foreign material were mixed.

Highlights of the gold session included an 1865 Proof Eagle that brought $37,500 and several Matte Proof twenties that realized bids in the mid-five figure range.

The copper session reinforced the strong upward trend that early copper has been enjoying lately. Two mint state 1794 cents brought bids in the $30,000 range, while nearly all of the later dates (after 1820) hit levels double and triple those of six months ago. Special note must also be made of the 1855 Braided Hair Cent in MS (69) which brought an astonishing $10,000, tying the price of a similar piece from the Garrett sale.

As expected, lower grade mint state type coins did not command the attention at the A.N.A. that they did earlier this year. Bidding generally followed a "peaks and lulls" trend with superb material remaining strong and lesser quality coins selling at comparatively "bargain" prices.

Early half dollars showed considerable strength with a superb 1865 realizing more than $12,000. Despite modest prices on many of the more plentiful type issues, the demand for quality coins shows few signs of abating.
